"It is an honor to join other business leaders in the travel healthcare industry to represent the industry as a whole," said Marc Krug, division president, travel and local at Cross Country Healthcare. "The board's focus centers on establishing industry standards to protect the public, representing the members on legislative issues and providing valuable information to inform government decisions."

Krug has been a healthcare staffing and human resources professional for more than 30 years. He brings to the board his experience as a strategist and day-to-day business leader for Cross Country Healthcare's travel nurse and allied divisions. He has a strong track record of growing revenue, improving operational efficiencies, scaling businesses and executing strategies. Prior to his career in staffing, Krug practiced law in Boston, MA.

"Marc is truly an industry expert. He managed our two travel brands through an unprecedented period, the ongoing pandemic and a digital transformation of the businesses. Under his leadership, we are successfully driving both scale and growth and growing market share across our nurse and allied lines of business," said Kevin C. Clark, co-founder and CEO at Cross Country Healthcare.

Krug received a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, a Juris Doctor degree from New England School of Law and a Master of Business Administration from Boston College Carroll School of Management. He resides in Boca Raton, Florida with his wife, son and daughter.
